

ch 2 - Picture It!

row apartments like a "slice in a long white cake of apartment-houses" (Fitzgerald ch. 2; 28).

Just for fun, here are Myrtle's "costume" changes:

dress #1: "a spotted dress of dark blue of crepe-de-chine" (25)

dress #2: "She had changed her dress to a brown figured muslin which stretched tight over her rather wide hips ..." (27).

dress #3: "... now attired in an elaborate afternoon dress of cream-colored chiffon which gave out a continual rustle as she swept about the room" (30).

(25)

When we first meet Myrtle, she is wearing a dress made of crepe-de-chine fabric ...

Crepe myrtle is a flowering shrub!
