

We Can Get Them For You Wholesale Narrative Writing Assignment

You have just finished the short story “We Can Get Them For You Wholesale” by Neil Gaiman. It’s the story of a man that just can’t pass up a bargain. It is now your job to decide what happens next in the story. What are those things breaking in Peter Pinter’s door? Does everyone really die? Does mild-mannered Peter become a hero and save the day? Is he merely taken hostage?

Write a narrative essay detailing what happens next in the story. Your essay must be a minimum of three paragraphs. (You may write more.) If you choose to type your essay (preferred), please use Times New Roman, 12 point font and double space your paper. Be sure to use correct sentence structure, spelling, and punctuation.

You should write in Mr. Gaiman’s style and continue in the tense he is writing. The last line of the story should be the first line of your paper.

I will be grading on creativity and the ability to follow directions.

This paper is due no later than _____.
